There are a lot of misconceptions about STEM learning and what is important to focus on when leading it and assessing it. In this webinar we will discuss and explore some of the key lessons that teachers need to learn as they take the journey of being effective in enacting STEM learning. This includes contexts, structures and thinking.

We will also explore various approaches to measuring learning progression in transdisciplinary units including the underlying thinking frameworks of the Technologies Curriculum. Attendees will leave with a range of tools they can begin to apply in their own classes.
